Greetings!,

The reason you are receiving this eblast is because BVRI is trying to clean up our eblast list and you have either moved out of Bear Valley and perhaps are not interested in the information or you have multiple email addresses on the eblast list. We try sending out information when we feel it is important for the community to receive it. We certainly don't want to inundate you with multiple duplicate eblasts which might be occurring if you have multiple addresses listed. If you have moved and still want to receive eblasts please ignore this but if you would like to only receive eblasts at one of your addresses please send an email to me so I can delete the others. Thanks so much.

We wish you all a happy and snowy holiday season!

Sincerely,
